

● Program Notes

This is a part of the Vive! Saxophone Quartet commissioning project. It is strict in form as a sonata but it still follows a structure. On the contrary, it is very free in expression. The aim for the work was to give a bit of direction to unstructured music. The music progresses uninterrupted for about nine minutes. Please enjoy performing this piece.

The form is as follows:

Introduction mm. [1] ~ [8]

First movement statement m. [8] ~ (first melody m. [8] ~ / second melody m. [25] ~) / development m. [45] ~

ce. Therefore, the recapitulation has been omitted in the first movement. I have known the composer since we were students at Musashino

● About the Composer

Satoshi Yagisawa was born in 1975 and graduated from the Department of Composition at Musashino Academia Musicae. After completing his master's degree he continued research studies for two additional years.

His compositions for wind orchestra are popular in Japan and abroad. His book, Teaching Music Through Performance in Band published by GIA, Leonard MGB in Holland and Bravo Music in America, selected him as one of the best young composers in the world. He has conducted the Texas Conductors' Collegium, and performed at the 12th World Congress of Bands in Singapore and the Midwest Clinic in Chicago. In Japan, he has conducted the National High School Band Festival, Japan Intra-High School Athletic Meets as well as the National Sports Festival. He was appointed Ceremonial Music Director for the National Sports Festival 2010 in the State of Chiba, Japan.

Other professional activities include festival adjudication, guest-conducting, teaching, lecturing, writing columns for music magazines and advisory work for a music publisher. He is one of the most energetic young composers in Japan today. Currently he teaches wind, string, and percussion instruments at Tokyo Music & Media Arts Shobi. He is also a member of the Japanese Society of Composers and a judge for international competitions. He has performed premieres of outstanding original works by Japanese composers.
